Any other sources of additional incomes will only be displayed on screen if the income is already on the customer's record. There is no 'View' or 'Edit' link available for these incomes as they cannot currently be amended (these will be amendable in the future).

Customers who are in receipt of an income that cannot be currently declared online should advise us through MyEnquiries.

2.7 How your tax credits and rate band are currently divided

Details of a customer's tax credits and rate bands are shown in this section. Where a customer has more than one job, information is provided to show how their tax credits and rate bands are divided between each job.

There are two tabs – PAYE and USC and they can be accessed by clicking on the relevant tab.

The PAYE tab gives details of a customer's standard rate cut off point and overall tax credits. Where a customer has more than one job, the standard rate cut off point and tax credits applicable to each job is shown.

2.7.1 Edit how your tax credits and rate bands are divided

Customers or jointly assessed couples who have more than one active employment can amend how their tax credits and rate bands are divided.

Customers who are USC exempt or on the reduced USC rate can amend their USC status if they believe they are not entitled to either the exemption or the reduced rate. Tax Credit Certificates (TCC) issued on foot of any changes to a customer's USC status will issue on a week 1 basis. (Week 1 basis means that each week's pay and tax is calculated independently without reference to any previous week's pay or tax. No tax refunds can be made while on a week 1 basis).

When customers make changes to their records i.e. by updating either their tax credits or incomes, they will automatically be taken to the 'Divide your credits and rate bands' section if they have more than one active employment. For couples who are jointly assessed, where both spouses/civil partners are working, this will happen when a change is made to the record of either spouse or civil partner.

Alternatively, a customer or jointly assessed couple can amend how their tax credits and rate bands are allocated by clicking on the 'Divide tax credits' link on the navigation bar. Customers and jointly assessed couples who have only one active employment will not have this link on the navigation bar.

2.7.2 Divide your tax credits and rate bands

To ensure that customers' tax credits and rate bands are appropriately allocated across different jobs, the customer will be asked to estimate their gross income for their employment(s)/employment pension(s) and those of their spouse or civil partner, where appropriate. This is to ensure that the customer pays the right amount of tax during the year (and no underpayment or overpayment arises).

Where customers are unable to estimate their income, they should click on the 'Unable to Estimate' box.

If customers have made changes to their record and/or to their spouse's or civil partner's record and they are unable to provide an estimate of their income for at least two of their employments/employment pensions, they will be asked to select their main employment/employment pension i.e. the employment/employment pension with the highest income. The adjustments to their tax credits and/or rate bands will be made against this employment/employment pension.

If a customer provides an estimated income for one employment/employment pension only, the adjustments will be made against that employment/employment pension.

Customers who have made no changes to their records but want to make changes to how their tax credits and rate bands are divided must provide an estimate for at least two of their employments/employment pensions (if relevant).

A re-allocation of tax credits and rate bands will only take place amongst employments/employment pensions where an income has been provided.

Customers will have the option to reject the automatic allocation. When a customer chooses this option, they will be asked how they want their tax credits and rate bands divided.

2.7.3 Divide tax credits and rate bands equally

Customers with two live employments/employment pensions will be given the option to divide their tax credits and rate bands equally between both employments/employment pensions. Where a customer estimates their income, they will be given the Revenue recommended allocation but will also have the option to divide equally. Where the customer cannot estimate their income, the divide option will then be provided. If a customer opts for an equal split, this request will process automatically.

3 Revenue Payroll Notification (RPN)

After a submission has been made, an RPN will be made available to the relevant employer(s)/pension provider(s). The RPN is the employer's copy of the TCC and shows, amongst other things, the employee's total tax credits and tax and USC cut-off points for the year. A breakdown of the customer's tax credits is not provided on the RPN.

A copy of the Tax Credit Certificate (TCC) will be available to view by employees in My Documents (which is also available in myAccount) usually within 2 days of the submission being made. The TCC sets out a customer's tax credits and tax and USC rate bands for the current tax year.

The information provided by the customer, in addition to the information held on Revenue's record, will determine the appropriate tax credits and rate band.
