Overview

The COVID-19 Temporary Wage Subsidy Scheme (TWSS) is operated by Revenue through the payroll system and is available to employers who keep employees on payroll through the COVID-19 pandemic, meaning employers can retain links with their employees for when business picks up after the crisis.

Expenditure on TWSS

The Exchequer cost* of TWSS in any given week is a factor of the number of employees on the Scheme, the instance of pay frequencies that fall within the week and the subsidy amounts being paid to individual employees.

Employee Duration on TWSS

For example, 7% of current TWSS employees have been on the Scheme since the week of 27 March, 17% since the week of 3 April, etc.
